Curie - Praha - Elektra

Right in the centre of Jáchymov, a few steps from the bus stop there is a complex of three spa facilities. The oldest, Elektra, was built in 1900. The modern Curie Hotel arose in the 1990s and following a thorough reconstruction in 2004 it now connects the Elektra, Curie and Praha houses into a unified whole. Thus guests in each house can use all of the services, including the spa and medical care, without having to leave the building. The Jáchymov radon mineral water improves the quality of life for the ill, relieves their pain, revitalises, puts off the need for an operation and restores health. One of the cornerstones of treatment at Jáchymov is quality remedial care carried out by top physiotherapists.
